

PRESS RELEASE

St. Louis, January 2, 2011: Two of St. Louis's top wedding photographers are merging companies to provide wedding couples with expanded wedding photography services in 2011.

Award winning photographers Tracey Bartmann-Leek, of Timeless Expressions, and Derek Cadzow, of Love and Life Photography, will begin combined operations in January, 2011, under the name Love and Life Photography, LLC.

"Tracey's style and my style complement each other well and, by combining forces, we will be able to bring expanded services and new products to our customers. We want to continually raise the bar for our clients and enhance our service reputation", says Mr. Cadzow.

"I'm looking forward to this collaboration," says Ms. Bartmann-Leek. "Derek and I have worked together informally on a number of events and consistently encourage each other to do better work. The combining of knowledge and experience will just lift us to a new plateau of world-class photography for our St. Louis, national, and international clients."

Co-incident with this announcement, Love and Life Photography has released their new website to showcase the combined works of Ms. Bartmann-Leek and Mr. Cadzow. The address is loveandlifephotography.com

Interested brides and grooms, families, and seniors can visit the site and email Love and Life Photography directly from the CONTACT page.

Love and Life Photography brought its contemporary style to St. Louis wedding photography in 2008, quickly establishing a reputation for excellent customer service and outstanding photography. Photographer Derek Cadzow won The Knot's prestigious "Best of Weddings, 2010" award in only his second year of operation in St. Louis. He holds a Journalism degree and a Professional Photographer's certificate from the Washington School of Photography and has booked and photographed weddings internationally. He belongs to the Professional Photographers of America (PPA) and the Wedding and Portrait Photographers International (WPPI).

Timeless Expressions has been a leading wedding and family photography company in the St. Louis area for eight years. Photographer Tracey Bartmann-Leek has photographed more than 500 weddings in the last 15 years and has won the coveted Bride's Choice Award for three consecutive years (2008-2010) from Martha Stewart's WeddingWire, achieving nearly 100 percent perfect review scores from her clients. She has also just recently been awarded The Knot's Best of Weddings for 2011. She has booked and photographed weddings internationally. She belongs to the Professional Photographers of America (PPA) and the Wedding and Portrait Photographers International (WPPI) and holds a Broadcast Journalism degree.
